To Whom It May Concern:

I wholeheartedly recommend Bevan James Eyles as a speaker. I have heard him speak on two different occasions and both times I was impressed.

The first time I heard him speak was to a group of Les Mills Group Fitness Instructors, during their quarterly education model. The audience was of fitness professionals from different clubs around the upper half of the North Island. Bevan took us through a values exercise, which included a visualisation exercise. Bevan was well prepared and spoke with passion and energy. I stole his ideas and took it to my site leaders for their next meeting.

I run a company which has the management rights to 8 Z Energy service stations throughout the Coromandel and Waikato. I have monthly meetings with site leaders and then yearly have a leadership day. I decided to invite Bevan and was interested to see how he would cross over into an industry of which he was not experienced in.

Bevan exceeded expectations. After telling his own story, which had the team gripped from the get go, Bevan then started to talk about the importance of resetting. Over the course of 3 hours Bevan made some great break throughs with the team and had them thinking on a different level.
